

On the Shores of Tennessee.

"Move my arm-chair, faithful Pompey. In the sunshine bright and strong. For this world is fading Pompey. Mass won't be with you long. And I ain't would hear the south wind. Bring over more the sound to me. Of the waves and the breaking. On the shores of Tennessee."

"Mournful though the ripples murmur. As they tell the story tell. How no vessel float the banner. That I've loved so long and well. I shall listen to their music. Dreaming that again I see. Stains and stripes on sloops and shallops. Sailing up the Tennessee."

"And, Pompey, while old Massa's waiting. For death's last dispatch to come. If that evil day ever comes. Should come proudly sailing home. You shall greet it, slave no longer. Voice and hand shall both be free. That shout and point to Union colors. On the shores of Tennessee."

"Massa's berry kind to Pompey. But old darkey's happy here. Where he's tended corn and cotton. For some many a long year. Over yonder Massa's sleeping. No one tends her grave like me. Maybe she would miss the flowers. She used to love in Tennessee."

"Pears like she was watching Massa. If Pompey should be seeing him. Maybe she'd remember better. How for him she used to pray. Telling him that way up yonder. White as snow his soul would be. If he knew the Lord of Heaven. While he lived in Tennessee."

Silently the tears were rolling. Down the poor old dusky face. As he stepped behind his master. In his long accustomed place. Then a silence fell around them. As they gazed on rock and tree. Pictured in the placid waters. Of the rolling Tennessee."

Master, drowning of the battle. Where he fought by Marion's side. When he led the hungry Traction. Stoop his lordly crest of pride. Mass remembering how you sleeper. Once he held upon his knee. Ere she held the gallant soldier. Ralph Verrill, of Tennessee."

Still the south-wind loudly lingers. Mid the veteran's silver hair. Still the boatman, close beside him. Stands behind the old arm-chair. With his dark-lined hand uplifted. Shading eyes, he looks around them. Where the woodland kindly jutting. Tarns aside the Tennessee."

Then he watches cloud-torn shadows. Glide from tree to mountain crest. Softly creeping, eye and ear. To the river's yielding breast. Hal above the foliage fender. Something fluttered in the air. "Massa! Massa! Hallelujah!" The flag's come back to Tennessee!"

"Pompey, hold me on your shoulder. Help me stand on foot once more. That I may salute the colors. As they pass my cabin door. Here's the paper signed that frees you. Give a freeman's shout with me. "God and Union!" be our watchword. Evermore in Tennessee."

Then the trembling voice grew fainter. And the limbs relaxed to stand! One prayer to Jesus, and the soldier. Gilded to that better land. When the flag went down the river. Man and Master both were free. While the ring-dove's note was mingled. With the rippling Tennessee."

VERMONT SNOW DRIFTS.—The Rutland Herald has the following "tall" story about a Vermont snow drift:

We noticed that the story of the Irasburgh Standard about the citizens of North Troy tunneling a snow drift so that teams do easily pass through it, is having a wide circulation in the papers. There is now a bank piled up against a house in Mount Holly which has been tunneled through so as to admit the light through the window into the dwelling. Another dwelling house, a story and a half high, has a snow drift in the rear which extends a good distance up the roof—nearly to the top. In front of still another house of about the same size, the snow is so deep as to bring the path nearly level with the eaves of the house. The said house stands close to the road, on the down hill side and steps have been cut on the side of the snow bank so that the occupants of the house can pass up and down with as much ease, probably, as the teams pass through that tunnel in North Troy.

Parson Brownlow tells the following. A Union lady met on the sidewalk, one day, a Colonel of a regiment stationed at Knoxville, and said to him, "Colonel, how is it that I notice the Northerners have been getting the better of us at Fort Henry Fort Donelson and Fishing Creek?"

"Oh," thought the Colonel, "you see these troops were from Ohio, Indiana and Illinois. They are the descendants of Kentuckians, are Tennesseeans, who were from these States and across the Ohio, years ago. They are of our own stock, and are as good fighters as our own soldiers."

"Well, then, how was it about Burnside's victory at Roanoke Island? Were these Ohio, Indiana and Illinois soldiers too?"

"To this interrogatory the Colonel replied that he did not know, and hastily bidding the lady good day, left her."

A Mistake. A lawyer built himself an office in the form of a hexagon, or six square. The novelty of the structure attracted the attention of some Irishmen who were passing by; they made a full stop and viewed the building very critically. The lawyer, somewhat disgusted at their curiosity, lifted up the window, put his head out, and addressed them:

"Who do you stand there like a pack of black-heads gazing at my office? Do you take it for a church?"

"Faix," answered one of them. "I was thinking so till I saw the devil poke his head out of the window!"

Applications for permits can be made henceforth direct to the Collectors or Surveyors of the different ports.

SELLERS' COUGH

Established 1835.
Twenty-five years ago, Mr. R. E. Sellers commenced to manufacture this remarkable Cough Syrup for home demand. Little dreamed it was destined to become so important a branch of his drug business. But from year to year the knowledge of its value spread from family to family—county to county—State to State—no man being found in nearly every town in the Western country, and is considered indispensable in thousands of families.

The formula did not come to him in any mysterious way, but rather furnished in "Indian wigwag," nor accidentally discovered in wanderings over the "desert wilderness," but is the result of many years experience and observation in the practice of medicine. Containing no inflammatory or irritating ingredients whatever, it is not only applicable to the vast majority of Pulmonary and Bronchial affections, but is peculiarly valuable to children, affording great relief in Whooping Cough and Croup.

For Children. Do you want your delicate child to be healthy, strong and robust—then give them Sellers' Cough Syrup. It will cure your child of the Cough, Whoop, or Croup, or any disease of the Lungs, or any disease arising from Croup or Whooping Cough, or any disease of the Lungs, or any disease arising from Croup or Whooping Cough.

From the Rev. T. G. Lamb, Pastor of the Baptist Church, Alexandria, Va. "I have used your Cough Syrup for many years, and it has cured my child of the Cough, Whoop, or Croup, or any disease of the Lungs, or any disease arising from Croup or Whooping Cough."

Recommended particularly to Clergymen, Lawyers and other Public Men. Professor Porter has, without solicitation, given a certificate of the excellence of this Cough Syrup. It will be interesting to those who are afflicted with Coughs—Pittsburgh Daily Post.
